GRASSHOPPER CONTROL FUND INADEQUATE

VISALIA, April 24 — Just one thing seems to stand in the way of a grasshopper control program in Tulare county — money.

From members of the executive group of a county-wide grasshopper control committee comes word that funds raised to date are inadequate to meet demands for anticipated control measures when the grasshopper hatch comes in May.

And it is further stated that unless contributions to the proposed control program are in the hands of the committee by next Monday, it will be impossible to obtain federal funds assistance.

Field men in the office of the county agricultural commissioner, and committee members, state that "conditions this year have been ideal for the development of grasshoppers and this could well be a year of disaster from grasshopper

Norton, a resident of Visalia, piled up 387 points out of a possible 400 in competing with a five-eighth ounce plug, dry fly, wet fly and three-eighth ounce plug, to retain his state title. In 1954 he won the national dry fly casting championship.

At the Porterville fish and game banquet Monday evening, slated for the new Rockwell Manufacturing company building on the north edge of town, Norton will

"BEAUTIFUL LAND" BOOMING LAND

When P. J. S. Montgomery and associates subdivided 9,000 acres 50 years or so ago, they called their project Terra Bella — or "Beautiful Land."

Certainly the name was well-placed; as for the real estate development, it has had its ups and downs — up in the early days when settlers were brought in and sold land; down in the 30s when farming was not the profitable business that it is today and when automobiles and improved roads were taking the life-blood away from many of the "country" towns.

But now Beautiful Land may well become "Boom Land", for with voters within the Terra Bella Irrigation district Tuesday approving an interest-free federal loan of $1,900,000 by which more than 5,000 "dry" acres in the district may be brought under irrigation, a modern-day land rush can be expected.

Not only will the community of Terra Bella itself feel the effects of this great development, but so will Porterville, as well. Interesting days lie ahead as another chapter in the history of the Beautiful Land is written.

"During the period of my leave", Jordan wrote, "I will regularly be coming into the office to take care of those pending matters which I want to handle personally and to generally supervise the work of the office. YOUR LEGISLATOR
AT WORK!

Senator
J. Howard Williams
32nd District
California State Legislature

The record of accomplishment so far rung up by your legislators in the first special session looks pretty fair, all things considered. As of this writing, we have successfully disposed of quite an impressive number of the 51 different items put into the call at various times by the Governor.

When you realize that a total of 196 legislative bills have been introduced in both the Senate and Assembly since the special session convened on March 3, and that as of now 62, or almost one third, are laws on our California statute books, no one can honestly accuse your legislators of not working diligently at their jobs.

In addition, 22 proposed constitutional amendments have been introduced, nine of which have passed the first house. Action on passed the first house. Action on will go to the voters next December.

Compared with the work done at the average regular session, this record is quite impressive. Usually only about a quarter of bills introduced become law.

The general category of school legislation was by far the largest among the items recommended for legislative consideration, and we have achieved the greatest results in it. An emergency $30 million has been appropriated for urgent school construction. A new state school building loan bond issue for $200 million will go on the November ballot. Improved science and engineering instruction at state colleges has been provided. Greater safety standards for private school busses has been required. Many technical bills relating to school district organization and unification have been put on the books.

"Diploma Mills" which sell phony diplomas to unqualified individuals, or to honest unsuspecting persons, also were dealt a body blow. Hereafter, heavy penalties can be handed out to those who traffic in such worthless credentials.

The serious problem of soil sinking, or "subsidence" in the Long Beach area is the topic of two bills which are now law. The first permits cooperation among private parties in agreements to repressurize oil and gas fields. The second permits local government bodies to participate in such compacts.

Several bills now law seek to encourage industrial expansion within California, and additional state construction, as a means of providing more employment. One law relieves ships being built from local property taxes, in order to let our state get its fair share of the $3 billion federal ship building program now under way. Another calls for a $200 million state building construction bond issue, to be used as soon as approved for all types of construction. Another would permit issuance of revenue bonds for construction of small boat harbors throughout the state.

The serious problem of soil sinking, or "subsidence" in the Long Beach area is the topic of two bills which are now law. The first permits cooperation among private parties in agreements to repressurize oil and gas fields. The second permits local government bodies to participate in such compacts.

Several bills now law seek to encourage industrial expansion within California, and additional state construction, as a means of providing more employment. One law relieves ships being built from local property taxes, in order to let our state get its fair share of the $3 billion federal ship building program now under way. Another calls for a $200 million state building construction bond issue, to be used as soon as approved for all types of construction. Another would permit issuance of revenue bonds for construction of small boat harbors throughout the state.

Morro Bay had storms like the rest of California but it did not wreck the fishing there. From reports of damage in the area many anglers who fish for the various ocean species there assumed the harbor had been ruined and the fish scared far out to sea, but this is not true.

The Moore family who operate Virg's Landing there phoned to say that live bait fishing had been excellent, that some salmon were being taken and that the report of damage was grossly exaggerated so if you want fishing fun as only live bait will produce, Morro Bay is very much still on the map with an abundance of fish in the ocean waiting to give the fisherman a fight for his money.

Striped bass fishing broke out all over the area and we spent several days up there last week catching over 70 stripers, of all size, but it was legal. About 68 of the fish were caught in nets by the fish and game department boys, tagged, then returned to the water. We made up the observation department with camera to record the project.

We did spend time fishing however and like everybody else, or at least practically everybody, fish were easily taken. We headquartered at Boyd's Harbor on Bethel Island.

Many hundreds of valley folks know Ted Anderson, formerly of Auberry and long time active member in the Fresno County Sportsmen's club. Ted, with wife Elsie now operate Ted and Elsie's Harbor on Sherman Island near Emmaton off Highway 24 between Rio Vista bridge and Antioch opposite lower Decker Island. The folks write to say that striped bass fishing has been good and say howdy to all.

The delta can furnish all the big catfish anybody wants to catch or at least all the law allows. This good fishing has no doubt been brought about by the removal of the commercial fishing nets.

Every now and then some of the striped bass anglers tie into a sturgeon and if the fish isn't too big, it adds to the fishing fun and meat for the table.

The nets used by the stripers tagging boys brought up very few salmon we're sorry to say but quite a number of shad, which reminds us to watch for the first run up the American river because we want to be there. Fly fishing for shad just can't be beat, even by a steelhead.

Warm water fish such as black bass, crappie, bluegill, etc., are being taken in abundance from the various lakes, reservoirs and canals. This includes Avocado lake for bass too.

Tulare county has 4,500 acres in late spring potatoes, compared to 6,300 last year.

"What reasons do others give for not purchasing the kinds of insurance they should buy?" asked a leading Porterville merchant who believed firmly in the value of good insurance.

"Well," I replied, "one of the biggest reasons is that they prefer to take a chance that nothing will happen."

"Hmm," he said, "that used to be my attitude too, until I had been in business long enough to realize the benefits of proper insurance."

He continued, "There are so many chances which we all must take. We can't completely avoid such things as business conditions, bad business judgment, ruinous competition, and the like. So it seems a shame not to shoulder off onto an insurance company whatever risks they are willing to assume."

"Personally, I have restricted, as far as possible, the effect of fate upon the fortunes of my family."

This is a sound philosophy to follow. Any of us have to undergo some risks. But why take unnecessary chances—one that a good insurance program will shoulder?

LOANS AVAILABLE AT ASC OFFICE FOR GRAIN STORAGE SPACE, ALSO FOR MOBILE EQUIPMENT FOR CROP DRYING

VISALIA, Apr. 24 — Farmers who need additional grain storage space on their farms can get five-year, four percent loans through the Tulare County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Visalia to finance cribs or bins, Committee Chairman Jack C. Phillips has announced. They can also get loans for mobile crop-drying equipment.

The purpose of the program, Mr. Phillips said, is to help farmers obtain more on-farm storage, particularly where it is needed to enable them to participate in the price-support program.

Any farm-operator, share tenant, share landlord or producer partnership is eligible to participate in the farm storage facility and equipment loan program. The loan may be either directly through the ASC office or through a local bank. Loans may be obtained on storage for wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, soybeans, grain sorghums, dry beans, rice, peanuts, cottonseed and flaxseed.

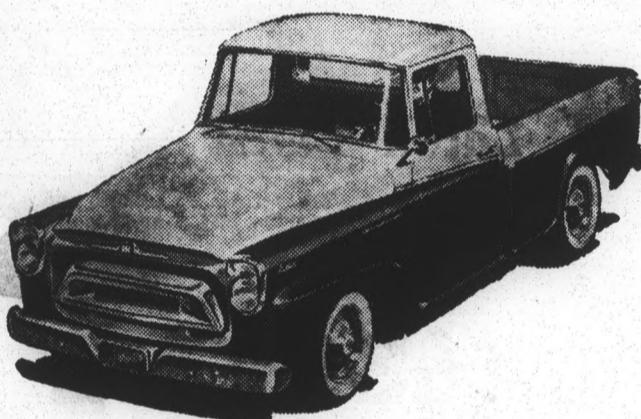

While the structures financed do not have to be used for commodities which are under price-support loans, they must meet the same storage requirements. A farmer may borrow up to 80 percent of the cost of new storage bins, cribs, or other approved structures. The loan may be repaid in four annual installments with the first installment due at the end of the first year.

Drying equipment eligible for loan includes mobile dryers, air circulators, ventilators, tunnels, and fans. Up to 75 percent of the delivered and assembled cost — exclusive of labor costs — may be borrowed. These loans are for four years, payable in three annual installments beginning at the end of the first year. As on structure loans, the interest rate is four percent.

JIM THOMAS IS PORTERVILLE CITRUS FOREMAN

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 24 — Jim Thomas is house foreman at Porterville Citrus association, working with Manager Henry Winters, who recently moved down from the Tule River Citrus association house that is being liquidated by sale of the plant and site to the federal government to make way for Success reservoir.

Thomas had been house foreman at Tule River Citrus for nine years. Most of the Tule River growers have moved into the Porterville Citrus association, where Valencias are now being run.

CORN PRICE SUPPORTS AT $1.38 A BUSHEL

VISALIA, Apr. 24 — Corn price supports for 1958 have been set at a minimum national average of $1.36 per bushel, Jack C. Phillips, chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee has announced. This is an "advance of planting" minimum support reflecting 77 percent of the April corn parity price, and based on a corn supply estimated at 4,751 million bushels — 126.7 percent of normal.

The loan rate for Tulare county will be announced before harvest. According to the chairman, compliance with acreage allotments will be a condition of eligibility for price support in commercial corn-producing counties. In counties outside the commercial area, which do not have corn acreage allotments, the corn support rates by law are set at 75 percent of the "commercial" rates.

Phillips explains that the minimum support price of $1.36 will not be reduced, but may be increased if a combination of the corn parity price as of October 1, 1958, and corn supply relationships as of that date indicate a higher support price.

DOYLE COLONY

By George A. Heints

Timing: One-half second was the difference in time between first money and second money at the Three Rivers Rodeo Sunday. Local calf ropers Lee Maloy and Emmett Gill were in there, one-half second behind was that popular team of B. M. Hamilton and Ed Yanez — as a paragon, the same half-second of timing would have possibly saved the life of one of our popular Doyle Colony youngsters, Winston Pearson, who became a traffic casualty number on our screaming highways — speed usually cops first money in the rodeo arenas — on the highways it is a cinch to get you last.

New Stuff: A drive-in eat spot soon to open at B Lane and East Date — across the street a huge building has been moved in place waiting for a foundation, it is rumored it will be a boat shop to take care of boats on "Success Lake" — J. E. Lasure is starting a lumber yard on Clatte Drive — Ed Quiram busy installing better facilities for his rentals, and looks like "Hogan's Alley" is due for a spring house cleaning literally and physically — Zeb Young and Junior Hensley happy in their new business association — much talk about the Sheriff race which kinda puts some of our fine deputies out here in a squeeze.

Native Sons: Since Charley Perku has been on a buttermilk diet he's lost about 40 pounds and is busy again harvesting that "green gold" — which to you foreigners is alfalfa — the sage of Huckleberry Lane, Hugh Williams, busy campaigning for a guy whose name isn't Williams.

I'll betcha: If you took the line of least resistance you couldn't catch a dead trout with it! — Fishing season opens May 3rd.

COTTON LOANS MATURE APR. 30

VISALIA, Apr. 24 — Maturity date for price support loans on cotton is April 30; cotton under price support loans may be redeemed until then, but after this date loan cotton will be taken over by the Commodity Credit corporation.

Did it!

"A turkey grower goes broke these days if his feed costs get out of line," says Bill Sitterding of Madera. "We managed to make some money with our most recent flock, but only because the homogenous feeds we get from Hilco are so much more efficient than old-fashioned mashes."

Study the Ferguson & Sitterding record for proof. Then get the full homogenous-feed story from your nearby J. B. Hill Co. fieldman. You'll learn that balanced nutrition is the secret . . . balanced nutrition in every bite. When birds can't pick and choose their feed . . . can't by-pass the nutrients that make them grow . . . you're bound to get better, more uniform performance from every dollar you spend on this major part of your overall costs.

"The cattlemen in this county have been very cooperative in signing requests as well as making contributions for spraying their property."

Endangered area, it is stated, program, it is stated.

We just returned from the city of smog with several items of interest. They include Hibiscus, Bougainvillea, Martha Washington Geraniums, one left fender from a blue Ford, hay fever, and some Dwarf Bottle Brush just starting to bloom.

The Hibiscus are in red, pink, and golden yellow and many of them have flowers to prove it.
They do best in a hot, sunny spot which might not otherwise grow anything except puncture vine or Bougainvillea vine which grows in the same place, only taller.

Martha Washington Geraniums do well in spots not quite so hot, which is usually on the east side.
They can also be grown in tubs on your patio, given away as gifts, or put in a pot to be moved around from place to place. This helps when you need something to cover up weak spots in the porch, hide cracks, or use as an emergency ash tray.

Bottle Brush will grow anywhere for almost anybody and are mighty colorful too. They are evergreen, have red flowers, bloom for a long time, aren't bothered with insects, don't cost much, and what more could you ask for? Except for having bottle shaped fruit filled with imported Scotch they have everything.

They're all here on "E" Street north of Olive, seven days a week. Come early and avoid the mob.

Mrs. Pratt

bulls of the Christensen Brothers, is set for 2 p.m., at the Rocky Hill arena, May 3 and 4.

Mrs. Pratt will be right at home riding at the head of the parade since she has spent her entire life in "cattle country". She was born in San Mateo, June 8, 1886, but came to Porterville as a baby when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jefford moved to a ranch east of Porterville.

Mrs. Pratt married Willard Pratt in Visalia in 1909; they established their ranch and homesteaded near California Hot Springs; in 1921 they purchased a ranch on Deer Creek. Since the death of her husband in 1936, Mrs. Pratt has continued to operate this ranch herself.

Summer cattle range for the Pratt ranch is in Peck's canyon and Mrs. Pratt spends considerable time there. On her 70th birthday she was camped between two snow drifts in the high Sierra country.

In the parade that Mrs. Pratt will lead will be western riders, special mounted groups, western vehicles, bands and riding clubs from throughout the valley.

At the RCA-approved Roundup, rodeo fans will get extra laughs from the famous Slim Pickens, clown and bull fighter, who will be assisted by his trick horse, "Dear John."

Other special Roundup features will include a business men's calf tying contest, a 4-H and Future Farmer calf scramble and a thrilling Roman Ride by Porterville's own, 10-year-old Clyde Burchell.

Featured in the Christensen Brothers' bucking string will be three of the top 10 bucking horses in the nation — War Paint, the No. 1 bucker, Desert Rat and Miss Red Bluff.

Western dance the evening of May 3, at the Green Mill, will bring Cousin Herb's Tradin' Post gang to town, with Tex Ritter as guest star.
